49th Annual Conference
National Conference on Interstate Milk Shipments Committee
2007 Action Request

There has been an increase of dairy products imported into the United States. The safety and wholesomeness of most imported dairy products is unknown. There is evidence that many imported dairy products pose a health risk to consumers. The Food and Drug Administration does not possess the mandate or legal authority for pre-market approval of dairy products imported into the United States;

Action Request:

The Dairy Division of NASDA asks NASDA to promote Federal legislation to grant FDA the legal authority and resources to address this growing concern.
